Women's Dermatologic Society

ABOUT WDS

The Women's Dermatologic Society, founded in 1973, is dedicated to helping dermatologists fulfill their greatest potential and assisting them in making a contribution to our specialty and society. To achieve this goal, the Society relies on the active participation of its members, who represent a diverse cross-section of professional sub-specialties.

VISION STATEMENT

The Women's Dermatologic Society is committed to issues relevant to women and their families.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Women's Dermatologic Society is to support dermatologists by striving to:

- Promote leadership
- Promote the development of relationships through mentoring and networking
- Demonstrate a commitment to service through community outreach and volunteerism
- Provide a forum for communications and research relevant to women's and family issues
- Advocate excellence in patient care and education
- Promote the highest ethical standards

President's Welcome

Dear WDS Members, Supporters, and Friends,

Welcome to the 2016 Women's Dermatologic Society Annual Meeting Luncheon. We are honored by your presence.

WDS has had an incredible year as we strive to make our inspiring programs vibrant and relevant for the modern dermatologist while preserving our core values of mentorship, networking, and service. It has been my pleasure and privilege to work alongside our outstanding members who have contributed so much to make WDS the very special entity it is. I am grateful for everyone's support and teamwork. Thank you.

Whether this is your 1st or 43rd WDS Luncheon, I know you will feel the amazing energy of our organization as we celebrate our achievements and look forward to a fabulous year ahead. I encourage you to become involved in WDS, particularly through our regional groups, committees, and website. I hope you will take a moment to meet some new WDS members and find out how you can be more engaged in WDS.

Co-Chair's Welcome

Cheryl M. Burgess, MD

Dear WDS Members, Supporters, and Friends,

Welcome to the Women's Dermatologic Society (WDS) Annual Meeting Luncheon and welcome to our city, the U.S. Capitol, Washington, DC.

Today we celebrate the Women's Dermatologic Society and 43 Years of Blossoming Women. We are excited to have Joel Stein speak about reporting his June 2015 TIME Magazine cover story "Nip. Tuck. Or Else." and thank him for being here today.

We congratulate this years' president Dr. Kathleen J. Hectorne for her outstanding leadership this past year and welcome our incoming President, Dr. Adelaide A. Hebert.

We would also like to thank our generous sponsors and supporters. Additionally, we would like to thank our Annual Luncheon Committee for all their hard work.

In closing, we want to express our appreciation to all of you for attending and for continuing to support the WDS's mission!

Warm Regards,

Cheryl M. Burgess, MD

Keynote Speaker

JOEL STEIN

Changing Face: The Shrinking Shock of Cosmetic Procedures
Presented by RealSelf

Joel Stein will speak about reporting his June 2015 TIME Magazine cover story, "Nip. Tuck. Or Else." He'll explore the changing role of the dermatologist, what counts as a cosmetic procedure in today's society, and the increasing social acceptance of adjusting your appearance through technology. He will draw from the interviews he conducted while researching the article, as well as his experience undergoing a cosmetic treatment of his own.

Joel Stein grew up in Edison, NJ, went to Stanford, and in 1997, became a staff writer for TIME. In 1998, he began writing his sophomore humor column that now appears in the magazine every week. He's also written fourteen cover stories for TIME, and has contributed to The New Yorker, GQ, Esquire, Details, Food & Wine, Travel & Leisure, Businessweek, Wired, Real Simple, Sunset, Playboy, Elle, Los Angeles Times, and many more magazines, most of which have gone out of business. He has appeared as a talking head on any TV show that asks him, taught a class in humor writing at Princeton, and wrote a weekly column for the back page of Entertainment Weekly and the opinion section of the Los Angeles Times. This is the most he's ever written in third person.

WDS Charitable Donation

WDS strives to make an impact on the lives of others. Therefore, in lieu of table favors, the Annual Meeting Luncheon Committee has elected to make a donation on behalf of all WDS members, supporters, guests, and friends attending the luncheon to House of Ruth.

ABOUT HOUSE OF RUTH

Founded in 1976, House of Ruth helps women, children, and families in greatest need and with the fewest resources build safe, stable lives, and achieve their highest potential. At House of Ruth, we are ending homelessness and life-long abuse.

At our 14 programs in Washington, DC, we assess the capacities and needs of each woman and child, then design and deliver a specialized combination of services to meet their specific needs and build on their strengths.

We enfold the women and families in an environment that is safe, structured, and predictable and where they receive highly responsive and caring attention from the staff.

The women are dealing with many challenging issues: poverty, homelessness, domestic violence, and often, a history of mental illness and/or addiction. The children typically have developmental delays and emotional and behavioral problems.

Despite all these challenges, the women and children have not given up. They are resilient, courageous, and determined to improve their lives.

2016 Mentor of the Year

Alexa Boer Kimball, MD, MPH, is an experienced and accomplished academic investigator, leader, and administrator. She is Senior Vice President of the Massachusetts General Physician Organization, which employs more than 2,500 physicians, and previously served as Medical Director (chief medical officer) of this organization. A Professor of Dermatology at Harvard Medical School, she leads the Clinical Unit for Research Trials and Outcomes in Skin at Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) with a focus on psoriasis and hidradenitis suppurativa. She has published over 260 papers, is the author of the book "100 Questions and Answers about Psoriasis," which has been translated into Spanish, Greek, and Korean, and editor of "Dermatologic Diseases and Cumulative Life Course Impairment." Dr. Kimball is widely recognized for her research on physician workforce economics, quality of life, and outcomes, for which she was awarded the American Skin Association Research Award for Health Policy and Medical Education and the MGH Bowditch Prize for increasing quality of care while reducing costs. Dr. Kimball received her MD from the Yale University School of Medicine and her MPH from the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health, with dual bachelor's degrees in molecular biology and public and international affairs from Princeton University. She completed her residency in dermatology at Stanford University Medical Center and a clinical research fellowship at the National Institutes of Health. Dr. Kimball has served on multiple non-profit Boards including: the Women's Dermatologic Society, the Society for Investigative Dermatology, where she was elected Vice President, the Massachusetts Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy, and the Hidradenitis Suppurativa Foundation. She is incoming President of the International Psoriasis Council.

Personal Note/ Statement of Thanks:

It's my great pleasure to thank the Women's Dermatologic Society for this wonderful honor. More than anything else, what has meant the most to me in my medical career is the wonderful community of colleagues we have in dermatology. To be part of this special group, and to be recognized for playing a part in helping build and sustain it, is profoundly meaningful. I was incredibly lucky to have many unwaveringly supportive mentors and sponsors early in my career, two of whom I found through the WDS Society: Maria Turner and Lynn Drake. I've been equally fortunate to have so many talented young physicians from the U.S. and around the world who have come to work alongside me. Seeing them grow and thrive in their own careers gives me tremendous pride and joy. I view receiving this award primarily a reflection of their excellence, their career trajectories, and the wonderful diversity of their research and clinical accomplishments. I'm honored to have been able to work with them, spend time with them, watch them help each other and continue to keep our "alumni" together. These are all also the qualities and values of the WDS, which has played a similar role in so many of our members lives. I've loved being a member, am grateful for all the support over the years and I'm touched and humbled to receive this recognition. Thank you.

The first WDS Mentor of the Year award was given to Frances J. Storrs, MD, who had previously returned her honorarium to the WDS for the Rose Hirschler Award in 1991, to establish a Mentorship Program. Since 1993, the Mentorship Program has funded more than 400 women and men early in their professional careers, to spend one-on-one time with an established mentor of specific expertise.

2016 Rose Hirschler Award

Amy Paller, MS, MD is the Walter J. Hamlin Chair and Professor of Dermatology, Professor of Pediatrics, and Principal Investigator of the NIH-funded Skin Disease Research Center at Northwestern University's Feinberg School of Medicine. She received her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Brown University and her medical degree from Stanford University. Dr. Paller completed residency training in both Pediatrics and Dermatology at Northwestern University and her postdoctoral research fellowship at the University of North Carolina. She served as Chief of Pediatric Dermatology at Lurie Children's Hospital before becoming the Chair of Northwestern's Department of Dermatology in 2004. An author of more than 400 publications, Dr. Paller is an NIH-funded laboratory-based and clinical investigator. Her clinical interests focus on genodermatoses and pediatric cutaneous immune-mediated disorders. Her laboratory focuses on sphingolipids and lipid raft signaling; diabetic wound healing; and topically delivered gene regulation using nanotechnology. She serves on the National Institutes of Health's NIAMS Council. Dr. Paller directs the Pediatric Dermatology Clinical Trials Unit at Northwestern and has been the lead investigator on several landmark trials in pediatric skin disease. She is co-author or co-editor of leading textbooks of dermatology (Fitzpatrick's Dermatology in General Medicine, Pediatric Dermatology, and Hurwitz's Clinical Pediatric Dermatology) and is the Associate Editor of the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, among other journals. She serves or has served on the Board of the American Academy of Dermatology and American Dermatological Association, and as President/Chair and Board of Directors of the Society for Pediatric Dermatology, Society for Investigative Dermatology, Women's Dermatologic Society, Pediatric Dermatology Research Alliance, International Eczema Council, and Chicago Dermatological Society. She is a Board Member of several national patient support organizations.

Personal Note/ Statement of Thanks:

I would like to thank the WDS Awards committee and all of the WDS membership for honoring me as the recipient of the 2016 Rose Hirschler Award. It is so humbling to succeed 27 previously honored women and men, all of whom have contributed so greatly to our field and virtually all of whom have played a role in encouraging my pursuits in dermatology. I particularly want to note two previous recipients who were early role models to me, Dr. Nan Esterly (1989), the mother of pediatric dermatology, and Ruth Freinkel (2001), a female pioneer in investigative dermatology. I have been so fortunate to have these and other mentors, female and male, who guided me so selflessly towards my current passions. To be able to make a difference through patient care, research, education and advocacy is in large part due to my being surrounded by students, fellow faculty and colleagues, including through the WDS, who share my passions and my excitement.

It's been my pleasure to be an active WDS member for decades, making this Rose Hirschler Award especially meaningful. Through promoting networking, mentoring, service and leadership-building activities, the WDS has been pivotal in helping both women and men reach their full potentials in contributing to the field of dermatology and to the patients and communities we serve. With the new Regional groups, the WDS is offering these opportunities closer to our homes, and the new WDS-supported International Journal of Women's Dermatology further extends the WDS Vision to tackle issues relevant to women and their families worldwide. I am grateful for this Award and proud to be a long-term member of the WDS.

The Rose Hirschler Award is named in honor of Dr. Rose Hirschler, one of the first known female dermatologists in the United States. The award is presented annually by the WDS to physicians chosen for their significant contributions to medicine and dermatology and who, by their achievement, have served to enhance the role of women in the dermatologic specialty.

2016 Wilma Bergfeld, MD Visionary and Leadership Award

Elizabeth McBurney, MD

During her more than 40 years as a board certified dermatologist in clinical practice, Dr. McBurney has served the profession through her numerous leadership roles in professional organizations. She was an early pioneer in the laser-based dermatologic surgery and the study of mycosis fungoides.

A clinical profession with nearly 40 years' experience at

Louisiana's two medical schools, she has more than 200 professional presentations and 39 peer-reviewed publications

In 2012, she left full-time practice at Skin Care Specialist, a clinic she founded, and continues to devote her time to part-time clinical practice in Lafayette, LA, teaching medical students, mentoring young physicians, invited speaking engagements, and professional service. Her commitment to public service and education about skin health can be seen in her history of more than 75 community presentations, annual skin cancer screenings, and numerous appearances in local and national media outlets.

Personal Note/ Statement of Thanks:

Wilma F. Bergfeld has been such a good friend and role model to me throughout my career. To receive this prestigious WDS award bearing her name is an honor I will always treasure. Dr. Bergfeld has given so much of herself in service to other women dermatologists. If I have done the same, it is simply because I was following in her footsteps.

In the 30+ years as a member, I have seen WDS do so much for so many women. I have seen young dermatologists mentored in the art, science, and business of medicine. I have seen how as an organization we've given voice to the special needs and concerns of women in our specialty. I've seen the conscientious development of leadership skills of our members. It is my sincere hope that the WDS will continue to thrive for many generations of women dermatologists to come. I am so very grateful to each and every one of you.

Past Recipients

2011 - Lynn A. Drake, MD
2006 - Antoinette F. Hood, MD
2002 - June K. Robinson, MD
2000 - Wilma F. Bergfeld, MD

The Wilma Bergfeld, MD Visionary and Leadership Award was created in 2000 at the 25th Anniversary celebration of the WDS to recognize dermatologists of national prominence who have been trailblazers for women in some aspect of our specialty.

2016 Volunteer of the Year Award

Dr. Kourosh serves as Director of the Dermatology Division of Community Health at Massachusetts General Hospital and faculty in Dermatology at Harvard Medical School, where she focuses on increasing access to dermatologic care for underserved communities in the Boston area.

She has been a very active member of the WDS since her first year of residency, and has served as the Resident Representative and Young Physician Representative on the WDS Board of Directors. In this role, she founded and chaired the WDS Technology and Social Media Task Force, and launched a campaign to modernize methods of communication and member engagement in our organization with a focus on outreach to residents and young physicians. She designed the official WDS iPhone app and created the WDS Youtube Channel.

She received the WDS Community Advancement Award for founding Project Phoenix, a pro-bono tattoo removal program that assists former gang members and post-incarcerated patients with social reintegration and job acquisition.

In 2015, she along with her team of medical students and dermatology residents at Massachusetts General Hospital, hosted eight sun safety events throughout Boston, including skin screenings at a homeless shelter, educational health fairs at local community centers, and educational programs for disadvantaged students interested in science through the Boy's and Girls Club of Boston, reaching over 2,000 people.

Personal Note/ Statement of Thanks:

I am extremely grateful to the WDS Service Committee and its leadership, Dr. Rebecca Tung and Dr. Mona Gohara, for this honor, which is humbling in light of their own tremendous service to patients and to this organization.

I accept this award on behalf of a team of people who are by my side in all our service programs - in our community health fairs, our educational programs for disadvantaged youth, our skin cancer screenings, our pro-Bono tattoo removal program, and who inspire me with their smiles, hard work, and commitment to patients: my outstanding medical student Molly Storer, who has been my right hand in every program that we run, and my amazing residents Dan Sugai, Rebecca Hartman, Ryan Sells, Vlad Ratushny, Avery LaChance, and Alexandra Charrow.

I hope in seeing these incredible young women and men who at the early stages of medical school and residency have already made significant contributions to the WDS and to our field, all the residents and young physicians who may be learning about our organization will see that the WDS has a place and path of service for everyone and that we are particularly thrilled and welcoming of the contributions and leadership of young physicians.

Good fruits stem from good mentors, and I am very grateful for the exceptional mentors and advocates that I am fortunate to have in the dermatology department at Massachusetts General Hospital and in the WDS: Drs. Alexa Kimball, Lynn Drake, Rox Anderson, Bill Farinelli, Lisa Garner, Diane Berson, and Valerie Callender. We also share this award with them.

On behalf of all of us, thank you. I look forward to the opportunity to serve this outstanding organization in the years to come.

Past Recipients

- 2015 - Pearl E. Grimes, MD
- 2015 - Rachel Pritzker, MD
- 2014 - Becki Tung, MD
- 2014 - Latanya Benjamin, MD

The Volunteer of the Year award has been established to recognize a WDS member who has made an outstanding contribution through community service. The rollout of this award at the 2014 Annual Luncheon coincided with the tenth anniversary of WDS community outreach programs and this now annual award will continue to honor all those who support WDS and our service outreaches.

2016 President's Award

Barbara M Mathes, MD, FACP, FAAD

Born in Detroit, the 3rd of 10 children, she was an RN before becoming a physician. She received her medical degree from the College of Human Medicine at Michigan State University, and did dermatology residency at Henry Ford Hospital where she was chief resident. Dr. Mathes has been in private practice, academics and industry; she has held academic and clinical appointments at Michigan State University, the University of Florida, and the University of Pennsylvania. She served as Treasurer and Corresponding Secretary of Women's Dermatologic Society, has served on almost every WDS committee and task force over the past 30 years, and is currently the Assistant Secretary Treasurer of the American Academy of Dermatology. Dr. Mathes is married to Dr. Patrick Alguire; she has 3 sons and 2 grandsons. In her spare time she is completing a doctorate in Medical Humanities and spends as much time as possible at her cottage on Walloon Lake in Michigan.

Personal Note/ Statement of Thanks:

I am deeply touched and thrilled to receive this honor. Women's Dermatologic Society has been an integral part of my life and professional development. It was through WDS that I was privileged to meet the most extraordinary women; women who encouraged me, mentored me, listened to me, taught me to listen, guided me, supported me, helped me up when I stumbled, laughed with me, cried with me. More than anything else, we shared our stories, helped one another and became friends. This is what sets WDS apart from other societies: it provides an environment and opportunities by which women and others in dermatology can first develop friendships, and in doing so grow, define themselves, and pursue their goals and dreams. I am honored today to be among friends, celebrating this unique organization, and wish to thank Dr. Kathy Hectorne for her leadership, her commitment to WDS, and her unwavering friendship.

The President's Award is given at the discretion of the President of the WDS to an individual or individuals of her choosing. The awardee is an individual or individuals who supported the President in an extraordinary way during her term to help make the Society a better organization.

Program and Awards

2015 ACADEMIC RESEARCH AWARD RECIPIENTS

The WDS Academic Research Award provides funding for residents, post-residency fellows, and junior faculty (instructor, assistant professor levels), and early career dermatologists performing basic science or clinical research relevant to the field of dermatology. Awards in the amount of up to $10,000 each are given on a competitive basis. These awards are intended to help the recipient further in his or her academic career, and may serve as a basis for obtaining further funding.

Program and Awards

2016 MENTORSHIP AWARD RECIPIENTS

WDS Mentorship Award Program – Mission and Goals

- To develop leadership skills in dermatology residents and junior faculty, which will enhance their contributions to dermatology and medicine.
- To promote mentorship within the WDS.
- To establish long-term relationships between mentors and their mentees.

Purpose

- To develop mentoring relationships that might not otherwise be possible due to distance or funding availability.
- To develop leadership potential in candidates who have shown early promise through exceptional activities.

Program and Awards

2015 WDS & AVON COSMETIC MENTORSHIP AWARD RECIPIENTS

In 2015, WDS partnered with AVON's Skin Care Institute to bring members a new and exciting mentorship opportunity! The first award is granted to a WDS member - resident or young physician (five (5) years or less out of residency), also known as the "mentee". The second award goes to a more seasoned WDS member who is further along in their career — the 'Mentor'. This award was established to help promote the concept of mentorship, while gaining exposure and an understanding of the cosmetic dermatology business. The awardees travel to the Avon corporate headquarters and R&D facilities in New York.

Mentee: Kimberly Jerdan, MD

Mentor: Sabrina G. Fabi, MD

*This program is supported by Avon Skincare Institute

2016 INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL AWARD RECIPIENTS

The purpose of the WDS International Travel Awards is to provide support for women dermatologists from other countries to attend the WDS Annual Meeting Luncheon as well as the American Academy of Dermatology's Annual Meeting.

The WDS wishes to gratefully acknowledge the American Academy of Dermatology's International Affairs Committee for providing supplemental support of our 2016 International Travel Award program. By combining our own travel grant with complimentary registration to the AAD Annual Meeting and the International Scholarship Dinner, we are able to provide seven young physicians from around the world with professional development and networking experiences they might not otherwise have been able to enjoy.
