Women's Dermatologic Society

ABOUT WDS

The Women's Dermatologic Society, founded in 1973, is dedicated to helping dermatologists fulfill their greatest potential and assisting them in making a contribution to our specialty and society. To achieve this goal, the Society relies on the active participation of its members, who represent a diverse cross-section of professional sub-specialties.

VISON STATEMENT

The Women's Dermatologic Society is committed to issues relevant to women and their families.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Women's Dermatologic Society is to be the premier organization cultivating personal and professional development of dermatologists dedicated to excellence in patient care, mentorship, volunteerism, and leadership.

President's Welcome Letter

Dear WDS Members, Supporters, and Friends,

Welcome to the 2018 Women's Dermatologic Society Annual Meeting & Luncheon! We are honored by your presence.

As I reflect back on my presidency for the last year, I am amazed by all of the things the WDS has accomplished. We launched our new Council Structure and the IJWD was accepted to PubMed Central. We expanded our Regional Groups to include an Educational Series in four cities across the United States including Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, and New York. The "Disaster Support Committee" was created to assist our members in times of need and we launched a Giving Tuesday campaign to support Resident Travel Grants to this year's Membership Enrichment & Leadership Development (MELD) Forum which took place in January in conjunction with the Industry Visioning Work Group (IVWG). And we are expanding our opportunities to network around the country with networking receptions, large and small. We are a society of enthusiastic and engaged women and men.

Thank you to all of our outstanding members who have contributed so much to make WDS the special entity it is and for making these new initiatives successful. I know that the future of WDS is bright and I do so look forward to watching it grow.

Whether this is your 1st or 45th WDS Annual Meeting & Luncheon, I know you will feel the amazing energy of our organization as we celebrate our achievements and look forward to a fabulous year ahead. I hope you will take a moment to meet someone new and find out how you can be more engaged in WDS.

Sincerely,

Mary E. Maloney, MD

Thank you to our Annual Meeting & Luncheon Sponsors

Annual Meeting Chair's Welcome Letter

Dear WDS Members, Supporters, and Friends,

Welcome to the Women's Dermatologic Society (WDS) Annual Meeting & Luncheon and welcome to beautiful San Diego, California. Today we celebrate the Women's Dermatologic Society and 45 years of Women Making Waves. We are excited to have Dr. Michelle Camacho, Professor of Sociology at the University of San Diego, as our keynote speaker. She will speak about career fulfillment and expanding toward one's greatest potential in her "Resilient Happiness" presentation. We thank her for being here with us today.

We congratulate this year's President, Dr. Mary Maloney, for her outstanding leadership this past year and welcome our incoming President, Dr. Pearl E. Grimes. We would like to thank our generous sponsors and supporters, and congratulate all of today's award winners. Additionally, we would like to thank our Annual Meeting & Luncheon Committee for all their hard work.

In closing, we want to express our appreciation to all of you for attending and for continuing to support the WDS's mission!

Warm Regards,

“RESILIENT HAPPINESS”

Are you expanding toward your greatest potential?

Successful career fulfillment is an important achievement that shapes facets of our identities. Sometimes, however, once we've reached that goal post, changes and life transitions leave us yearning for a deeper sense of purpose and meaning. If we ignore this calling, our routines may breed monotony or boredom; our zest for life withers. Sharing recent research from a design-thinking approach, Dr. Camacho offers insights for new and mid-career professionals on re-learning to lead all parts of your life by taking risks, building a resilient spirit, and expanding a personal capacity for happiness.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Dr. Michelle M. Camacho is Professor and Faculty Administrator at the University of San Diego. Trained as a socio-cultural anthropologist, her PhD is interdisciplinary from the University of California, Irvine. Her research has been awarded continuous funding by the National Science Foundation to investigate inequities in higher education, specifically as they relate to the low numbers of women and minorities in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM). As an advocate of community-based research, she also researches the pathways of military veterans as they transition to higher education. She is co-author of three books and over 20 peer-reviewed articles. In 2015-2016 she was selected to be a Fellow of the American Council on Education, and currently serves on the board of the Council of Fellows. Her teaching and research awards include: the University Professor Award, the highest academic honor bestowed university-wide; the Innovation in Experiential Education Award; the McNair Mentor of the Year award; and a Fulbright Scholar award. Dr. Camacho has taught at the university-level since 1993, and was recently selected by the University of Virginia Arlington to teach aboard the Semester-at-Sea ship, a voyage that circumnavigated the globe. Her three children and husband joined her on this adventure across the Pacific Ocean to visit 13 countries including Vietnam, India, and Namibia. Her hobbies include teaching group fitness; you can find her giving weekly classes at the Bay Club in Carmel Valley.

Legacy Award

PEARL E. GRIMES, MD

Dr. Pearl E. Grimes is the Founder and Director of the Vitiligo and Pigmentation Institute of Southern California. She is a pioneer and a leading international authority on vitiligo and pigmentary disorders.

Dr. Grimes is a Clinical Professor of Dermatology at the David Geffen School of Medicine, University of California – Los Angeles. She has authored more than 100 professional articles, abstracts and two textbooks.

Dr. Grimes holds numerous achievements in dermatology. She has been recognized by her peers with the prestigious Dermatology Foundation “Practitioner of the Year” award and the Women’s Dermatologic Society’s “Mentor of the Year” award in 2011. She received the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery President’s Award in 2006. In 2016, she was recognized with an American Skin Association Research Achievement Award and in 2017 a Lifetime Achievement Award. She was also awarded the prestigious 2017 Arnold P. Gold Foundation Humanism in Medicine Award and the 2017 Everett C. Fox, MD Memorial Award and Lectureship.

She is also the Founder and Director of the non-profit organization, the Coalition for At-Risk Restoring Youth (CARRY). Founded in 2006, CARRY is dedicated to improving the lives of at-risk and foster care youth through a variety of innovative programs including pro bono dermatology clinics and other innovative programs that enhance self-esteem, self-worth, self-sufficiency, and long term success.

PERSONAL NOTE/STATEMENT OF THANKS:

I would like to thank all of the amazing women of the WDS for allowing me to be a part of this magnificent organization. I thank you for sharing your friendship, your mentorship, sisterhood, and your leadership with me. You have been my heroes, and now as your incoming president, it is my turn to lead, to guide, and to nurture as we journey to new horizons.

I am honored, proud, and humbled to be the recipient of the 2018 WDS Legacy Award.

PAST RECIPIENTS:

2017 - Susan H. Weinkle, MD
2016 - Jean Bologna, MD
2015 - Dr. Rex & Johnnie Amonette
2014 - Tina S. Alster, MD
2013 - Wilma F. Bergfeld, MD

The Legacy Award is presented annually to an individual who has been an advocate of WDS and a leader to the society and to dermatology. This individual is honored at the Legacy Celebration held each year during the AAD Annual Meeting. The proceeds from the celebration are donated to the Legacy Fund, which was established to ensure the long-term financial stability of the WDS.

Rose Hirschler Award

JANE M. GRANT-KELS, MD

Jane M. Grant-Kels, MD, FAAD, is Vice Chair of the Department of Dermatology, Founding Director of the Cutaneous Oncology Center and Melanoma Programs and Professor of Dermatology, Pathology and Pediatrics at the University of Connecticut Health Center. She is also founding chair emeritus of the Department of Dermatology, founding director emeritus of the dermatology residency program, and founding director emeritus of the dermatopathology laboratory. Dr. Grant-Kels attended Smith College and Cornell University Medical College. She then trained in pediatrics and dermatology at Cornell's New York Hospital. Following her residency she completed a dermatopathology fellowship at New York University with A. Bernard Ackerman. Dr. Grant-Kels serves on numerous editorial boards related to her field and is the founding editor in chief of the Journal of Clinical Medicine and founding co-editor in chief of the International Journal of Women's Dermatology. Recently she has been invited to be the new Deputy Editor of J Am Acad Dermatol starting in June 2018. She has published over 310 manuscripts, 95 chapters, guest edited 20 journals, and edited or co-authored 6 books. She was a member of the Board of the Women's Dermatologic Society and is presently on the Board of the American Academy of Dermatology and Vice President elect. Her areas of interest are pigmented lesions, reflectance confocal microscopy, dermoscopy and dermatoethics.

PERSONAL NOTE/ STATEMENT OF THANKS:

I am incredibly honored to have been selected to be the recipient of the 2018 Rose Hirschler Award. To be recognized by my colleagues of the Women's Dermatologic Society means more to me than I can express. If I have accomplished anything of value in my career it is due to the love and support I have always received from my parents, my loving husband Barry of more than 43 years, and our incredible children Charlie and Joanna. My partners and friends in the Dermatology Department at the University of CT have always been a great source of inspiration and friendship. Finally all of my friends in the WDS have mentored me (even when I was theoretically supposed to be the mentor) and given me the encouragement and camaraderie needed to achieve success no matter what the task or challenge.

Thank you for honoring me with this recognition. Please know that without all of you in the WDS, none of what I have accomplished could have been achieved.

The Rose Hirschler Award is named in honor of Dr. Rose Hirschler, one of the first known female dermatologists in the United States. The award is presented annually by the WDS to physicians chosen for their significant contributions to medicine and dermatology and who, by their achievement, have served to enhance the role of women in the dermatologic specialty.

Wilma Bergfeld, MD Visionary & Leadership Award

AMY PALLER, MS, MD

Amy Paller, MD, MS is the Walter J. Hamlin Professor and Chair of the Department of Dermatology and Professor of Pediatrics at Northwestern University's Feinberg School of Medicine. She also serves as Principal Investigator of the NIH-funded Skin Disease Research Center at Northwestern and directs the Pediatric Dermatology Clinical Trials Unit at the Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago. An author of more than 400 peer-reviewed articles, Dr. Paller is an NIH-funded investigator who currently serves on the Council for the National Institute for Arthritis, Musculoskeletal, and Skin Diseases. She has served on the Board of the American Academy of Dermatology, Society for Investigative Dermatology, Society for Pediatric Dermatology, the Women's Dermatologic Society, The American Board of Dermatology, and the American Dermatological Association. She has been President of the Society for Pediatric Dermatology, Society for Investigative Dermatology, and the Women's Dermatologic Society, and inaugural co-Chair of the Pediatric Dermatology Research Alliance. She is currently President of the International Eczema Council and the International Society for Pediatric Dermatology. She has been the author of several major dermatology textbooks, including as co-author of Hurwitz's Clinical Pediatric Dermatology, and as an editor of the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, among others. She is grateful for many honors and awards, particularly from the WDS (Mentor of the Year, Rose Hirschler, and now the Wilma Bergfeld, MD Visionary & Leadership award).

PAST RECIPIENTS:

2016 - Elizabeth McBurney, MD
2011 - Lynn A. Drake, MD
2006 - Antoinette F. Hood, MD
2002 - June K. Robinson, MD
2000 - Wilma F. Bergfeld, MD

The Wilma Bergfeld, MD Visionary and Leadership Award was created in 2000 at the 25th Anniversary celebration of the WDS, to recognize dermatologists of national prominence who have been trailblazers for women in some aspect of our specialty.

PERSONAL NOTE/STATEMENT OF THANKS:

I am so grateful and incredibly honored to be linked to Dr. Bergfeld's legacy through this award. When asked which female dermatologist has been an extraordinary leader, visionary, and mentor, few would not have Dr. Wilma Bergfeld at the very top of the list. Dr. Bergfeld has been a key role model to me and I remain in awe of her bold and brilliant ideas, her relentless drive to support and advance women, and her continuing contributions to our field. Her vision and action in establishing the WDS 45 years ago blossomed into this society of 1,545 members and growing, in which she remains vigorously involved. I am so grateful to the WDS for its support throughout my own career, and encourage each of you to engage in WDS, thereby nurturing the careers of women for generations to come.

Walter B. Shelley, MD Leadership Award

DAVID M. PARISER, MD

Dr. Pariser is a Professor in the Department of Dermatology at Eastern Virginia Medical School in Norfolk, Virginia, where he is also the senior physician at Pariser Dermatology Specialists, Ltd. He is a former president of the American Academy of Dermatology and of the American Dermatological Association.

Dr. Pariser obtained his undergraduate degree from the University of Pennsylvania, his MD degree from the Medical College of Virginia, and trained as a dermatology resident in Florida at the University of Miami. Dr. Pariser is Board Certified in both Dermatology and Dermatopathology.

Dr. Pariser has been a guest speaker at over 600 CME events all over the world, and is currently on the Board of Directors of the International League of Dermatologic Societies, the body that sponsors the World Congress of Dermatology.

He is the author of 3 textbooks, multiple textbook chapters, nearly 50 invited papers, over 100 scientific poster presentations and over 170 original works in peer-reviewed journals, with additional co-authorship of 22 American Academy of Dermatology publications on Guidelines of Care. One of his most rewarding contributions was the "discovery" of the first woman dermatologist in the United States, Daisy Orleman Robinson whose life and career he chronicled.

Awards and honors presented to Dr Pariser include the Gold Triangle Award from the American Academy of Dermatology in 2001 for advocacy issues surrounding isotretinoin, 9 Presidential Citations from the American Academy of Dermatology, honorary membership in the American Academy of Dermatology and Clinical Educator of the Year award from both the Fall and Winter Clinical Dermatology Conferences.

Dr. Pariser is the 2017 awardee of the Gold Medal of the American Academy of Dermatology, its highest award.

PAST RECIPIENTS:

2017 - William D. James, MD

2015 - Richard Odom, MD

2014 - Stephen I. Katz, MD, PhD

2012 - E. Dorinda Shelley, MD

(in honor of her late husband,
Walter B. Shelley, MD)

The Walter B. Shelley, MD Leadership Award is presented periodically to a man who has made a significant contribution toward supporting women in dermatology.

PERSONAL NOTE/ STATEMENT OF THANKS:

Thanks to the selection committee, board of directors and our President Mary Maloney for this award. My generation has seen the coming into rightful age of women in dermatology, medicine and society in general, although there's still need for improvement. The early leaders of the WDS recognized a need and filled it. I am confident that the WDS will live on and continue to enhance our specialty by helping to develop thoughtful well-rounded dermatologists who appreciate the science and art of our specialty, who appreciate the unique challenges of women and who are able to maintain a life-work balance which in the end provides personal and professional fulfillment, perpetuates and advances our specialty and makes us better in our primary function, the care of patients.

Mentor of the Year

MARIA K. HORDINSKY, MD

Dr. Maria K. Hordinsky is Professor and Chair of the Department of Dermatology at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. Her career in dermatology took off after completing her residency at the University of Minnesota and receipt of an award from the Dermatology Foundation and then a National Research Service Award from the National Institute of Health. Dr. Hordinsky is recognized for her expertise and research in hair diseases and neurodermatology. She is the current President of the North American Hair Research Society, immediate past chair of the Clinical Research Advisory Council of the National Alopecia Areata Foundation and is a past President of the Association of Professors Dermatology. Dr. Hordinsky is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Cicatricial Alopecia Research Foundation and is Section Editor on Hair Diseases for UpToDate, an evidence-based clinical decision support system. Dr. Hordinsky has over 100 publications and regularly lectures and teaches on hair diseases. She divides her time between seeing patients with trainees and doing clinical research, teaching, and administration.

PAST RECIPIENTS:

2017 - Amit Pandya, MD
2016 - Alexa Boer Kimball, MD, MPH
2015 - Lisa Garner, MD, FAAD
2014 - Mary P. Lupo, MD
2013 - Dedee F. Murrell, MD
2012 - William D. James, MD
2011 - Pearl E. Grimes, MD
2010 - Mary Maloney, MD
2009 - Tina S. Alster, MD
2008 - Jean Bolognia, MD
2007 - Libby Edwards, MD
2006 - Amy Paller, MD
2005 - Ilona J. Frieden, MD
2004 - Vera H. Price, MD
2003 - Frances J. Storr, MD

The first WDS Mentor of the Year award was given to Frances J. Storr, MD, who had previously returned her honorarium to the WDS for the Rose Hirschler Award in 1991, to establish a Mentorship Program.

Since 1993, the Mentorship Program has funded more than 400 women and men early in their professional careers, to spend one-on-one time with an established mentor of specific expertise.

PERSONAL NOTE/ STATEMENT OF THANKS:

I am very honored to receive the 2018 WDS Mentor of the Year Award. Mentoring is both a science and an art, and the WDS has played a major role in providing mentorship experiences to dermatology residents, faculty, and practicing dermatologists. Several of our residents have benefited from this program and most likely many of you in the audience have as well. Kudos to the WDS!

I would like to share how this nomination came about and to encourage you to nominate, in the future, those around you who have been contributing to our specialty through mentoring. One of our junior faculty and WDS member, Dr. Ronda Farah, asked me if I would be interested in being nominated. Being a new Mom and very busy, my answer to Dr. Farah was "only if you have time." The next thing I knew while reading emails one morning while at an investigator meeting, was that Dr. Farah had asked for letters of support within a 4 day window from people she knew I had mentored in the past few years. She flooded my inbox with letters that had been submitted to the WDS from senior, junior and mid-career faculty, the chief residents, research fellows, and now colleagues from Sao Paulo, Brazil, a Proshek-Fulbright scholar from the Czech Republic, a dermatologist and research fellow from Iraq, clinical research fellows, and colleagues from Neurology. The letters were amazing for the recognition given for being inspirational, approachable, and available — rather humbling. What is even more humbling and exciting though is that mentorship travels in a circle and though I have been a mentor in the spirit of the WDS, the mentees are now smarter and more knowledgeable in the areas they have been mentored in, and are in turn not only teaching their own generation but also mine, our upcoming millennials and those in-between! It seems as if mentoring is getting better than ever! Mentoring also carries over from the work place to the home environment and celebrating today's occasion are also family members who chose to pursue education, law and medicine/dermatology. They have all also been part of the "mentorship journey." Thank you WDS, colleagues, friends and family for this special award!

Volunteer of the Year Award

WENDI E. WOHLTMANN, MD

Dr Wohltmann is the Program Director of the SAUSHEC (San Antonio Uniformed Services Health Education Consortium) Dermatology Residency Program and an Assistant Professor of Dermatology at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences. She obtained her Master's degree in Biochemistry at the University of California, Riverside, and earned her Medical Degree at Drexel University College of Medicine. She completed her residency in Dermatology at SAUSHEC and her Dermatopathology fellowship at the University of Colorado, Denver. As an active duty United States Air Force physician, she has completed two combat deployments in Iraq, participated in New Orleans rescue operations during Joint Task Force Katrina, and provided on-site medical control for Space Shuttle STS-116 landing at Cape Canaveral. She has a special interest in humanitarian missions, having supported efforts in Peru, Suriname, Dominican Republic, and Mauritania. Her other passions include teaching, mentorship, and volunteerism.

PAST RECIPIENTS:

2017 - Ashley Wysong, MD, MS
2016 - Shadi Kourosh, MD
2015 - Pearl E. Grimes, MD,
Mona Gohara, MD,
Rachel Pritzker, MD
2014 - Rebecca Tung, MD &
Latanya Benjamin, MD

The Volunteer of the Year award was established to recognize a WDS member who has made an outstanding contribution through community service. The rollout of this award at the 2014 Annual Luncheon coincided with the tenth anniversary of WDS community outreach programs, and this now annual award will continue to honor all those who support WDS and our service outreaches.

PERSONAL NOTE/ STATEMENT OF THANKS:

Thank you to the WDS - I am humbled and honored to win the Volunteer of the Year Award! This award is dedicated to all of the selfless WDS volunteers, who continually inspire me to give back. I encourage everyone to participate in a WDS volunteer activity in 2018. The WDS makes it easy to organize a Play Safe in the Sun skin cancer screening or Coast-2-Coast educational outreach event. Additional opportunities include serving in a leadership position or on a committee. Together we can accomplish great things!

Additionally, I wish to thank my WDS mentor, Dr Jean Bologna, for her support.

President's Award

ELIZABETH I. MCBURNEY, MD

During her more than 40 years as a board certified dermatologist in clinical practice, Dr. McBurney has served the profession through her numerous leadership roles in professional organizations. She was an early pioneer in the laser-based dermatologic surgery and the study of mycosis fungoides. A clinical profession with nearly 40 years' experience at Louisiana's two medical schools, she has more than 200 professional presentations and 39 peer-reviewed publications.

In 2012, she left full-time practice at Skin Care Specialist, a clinic she founded, and continues to devote her time to part-time clinical practice in Lafayette, LA, teaching medical students, mentoring young physicians, invited speaking engagements, and professional service. Her commitment to public service and education about skin health can be seen in her history of more than 75 community presentations, annual skin cancer screenings, and numerous appearances in local and national media outlets.

PERSONAL NOTE/STATEMENT OF THANKS:

Women's Dermatologic Society has been a vital part of my professional and personal career. It has fostered my leadership development in our wonderful specialty of dermatology and given me the opportunity to make many life-long friends. Mary Maloney has been an outstanding 2017-2018 President and it has been an honor to help her in anyway possible. The future of the WDS is bright and assured with all our new members.

"The true secret of giving advice is, after you have honestly given it, to be perfectly indifferent whether it is taken or not, and never persist in trying to set people right."

— Hannah Whitall Smith

The President's Award is given at the discretion of the President of the WDS to an individual, or individuals, of her choosing. The awardee is an individual, or individuals, who supported the President in an extraordinary way during her term to help make the Society a better organization.

WDS Charitable Donation

WDS strives to make an impact on the lives of others. Therefore, the Annual Meeting & Luncheon Committee has elected to make a donation on behalf of all WDS members, supporters, guests, and friends attending the luncheon to Girls Inc. of San Diego.

Girls Inc. of San Diego County inspires girls to be strong, smart, and bold by providing hundreds of girls with life-changing support and real solutions to the unique issues they face. By providing no-cost, research-based programming the organization helps girls in the county overcome gender, economic, and social barriers so they may see college as attainable, resist peer pressure and explore professional fields in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) that have to-date been nontraditional for women.

Led by trained professionals who mentor and guide them, girls receive the right tools and support in a safe, girls-only environment with peers who share their drive and aspiration. Programs, workshops and one-day events are delivered to high-need girls at no cost, while fee-based programs are made available to all girls in order to generate funds that subsidize no-cost programming.

Founded originally in Vista, Girls Inc. of San Diego County began its work 50 years ago and continues today as an affiliate of Girls Inc. national. As a non-profit organization, it depends on individual donors and grant opportunities to sustain these programs. To support Girls Inc. of San Diego County and learn more about its programs visit us at www.girlsincsd.org.

QUICK FACTS

- Girls Inc. of San Diego County serves 300 girls on average each year through one-day and semester long programs
- Programs are hosted at middle schools, high schools, community centers and activity rooms in residential communities making them easily accessible to girls
- Participants range from 8 to 18 years old
- 28% come from families with an annual household income of $25,000 or less

PROGRAMS

As an affiliate of Girls Inc., the chapter has access to programming in nine different focus areas:

- Economic Literacy
- Operation SMART (STEM program)
- Preventing Adolescent Pregnancy
- Media Literacy
- Friendly PEERSuasion
- Leadership and Community Action
- Project BOLD
- Sporting Chance
- Mind + Body

Program and Awards

MENTORSHIP AWARD

The WDS Mentorship Award Program was created to help promote the concept of Mentorship within the WDS by establishing long-term relationships between Mentors and Mentees.

PURPOSE

The Purpose of the award is to develop mentoring relationships that might not otherwise be possible due to distance or funding availability. The program helps develop leadership potential in candidates who have shown early promise through exceptional activities, which will enhance their contributions to dermatology and medicine.

WDS/AAD 2018 INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL AWARD RECIPIENTS

The purpose of the WDS International Travel Awards is to provide support for women dermatologists from other countries to attend the WDS Annual Meeting Luncheon as well as the American Academy of Dermatology's Annual Meeting.

The WDS wishes to gratefully acknowledge the American Academy of Dermatology's International Affairs Committee for providing supplemental support of our 2018 International Travel Award program. By combining our own travel grant with complimentary registration to the AAD Annual Meeting and the International Scholarship Dinner, we are able to provide five young physicians from around the world with professional development and networking experiences they might not otherwise have been able to enjoy.

Anamaria Balic – Croatia
Riti Bhatia – India
Ines Nakouri – Tunisia
Luciana Laura Tirelli – Argentina
Magdalena Zychowski - Poland

This program is supported by the American Academy of Dermatology.

PROCTER & GAMBLE SCIENCE BEHIND SYMPOSIUM PROGRAM AWARD RECIPIENTS

Over the past 14 years, Procter & Gamble has hosted more than 200 prominent dermatologists in Cincinnati, OH for a two-day summit called The P&G Science Behind Symposium (a.k.a. Dermatology Technology Symposium). This gathering of top health professionals with leading industry scientists, researchers, and marketers serves to inspire collaboration, innovation, and scientific exchange. The meeting's ultimate goal is to spur discussion about products with meaningful, measurable and noticeable benefits to consumers and patients. The primary objectives of this program are to:

- Learn more about cutting edge techniques and technologies being used industry-wide to advance skincare products and research
- Foster collaboration and learning with leaders in the dermatology community
- Gain insights into the science behind top skincare products and help guide patient recommendations
- Network with colleagues and renowned scientists and discuss how new skincare technologies can better serve their patients

Physicians in attendance are guided through the science behind P&G products as well as the latest in skin research coming out of state of the art labs - from anti-aging to sensitivity and everything in between.

Mentees:

Katherine Ayoade, MD, PhD
Jeannette Jakus, MD, MBA

Mentors:

Linda Susan Marcus, MD, FAAD
Arlene Ruiz de Luzuriaga, MD, MPH

This program is supported by Procter & Gamble

The WDS Board of Directors and Legacy Council wishes to thank the following donors who have made contributions to the Women's Dermatologic Society from 2004 to January 2018, as shown with their cumulative WDS rose designation. We are grateful for your support and generosity, which enables us to build a solid future for the WDS.

International Journal of Women's Dermatology

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

The IJWD publishes articles pertaining to dermatologic medical, surgical and cosmetic issues faced by female patients and their children. In 2017 the IJWD became indexed on PubMed Central. We are interested in original research articles, review articles, unusual case reports, new treatments, clinical trials, education, mentorship and viewpoint articles. Very important articles will have accompanying editorials. Topics which our subsection editors look forward to welcoming include acneiform disorders, inflammatory skin conditions, infections, including sexually transmitted diseases, autoimmune conditions, blistering diseases, vitiligo, skin of colour, hair and nail disorders, skin cancers, pregnancy and childbirth, pediatric dermatology, vulvar/genital disorders, psychodermatology, surgical issues, laser/peel/cosmetic procedures, and dermatopathology. Articles dealing with ethical issues in dermatology and medical legal scenarios are also welcome. We aim for rapid peer review from the academic leadership of the WDS as well as experts throughout the world. We will have open access of the accepted peer-reviewed articles even before the final proofs are compiled, allowing the work to be available as soon as possible. We cater to an audience of dermatologists, scientists, educational experts, family practitioners, pediatricians, gynecologists and obstetricians, plastic surgeons, rheumatologists, internists, family physicians and pharmacologists.

ABOUT THE PUBLISHER

Elsevier is a world-leading provider of information solutions that enhance the performance of science, health, and technology professionals, empowering them to make better decisions, deliver better care, and sometimes make groundbreaking discoveries that advance the boundaries of knowledge and human progress. Elsevier provides web-based, digital solutions — among them ScienceDirect, Scopus, Elsevier Research Intelligence and ClinicalKey — and publishes over 2,000 journals, including Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology, Journal of Investigative Dermatology, and more than 33,000 book titles, including a number of iconic reference works. Elsevier is part of RELX Group plc, a world leading provider of information solutions for professional customers across industries.

GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORS

The International Journal of Women's Dermatology is a refereed journal designed to meet the continuing education needs of Women's Dermatology Society members and the entire dermatologic community. The Journal bases its policies on the guidelines set forth by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (www.icmje.org).

Before you begin, please visit www.ijwdonline.org/content/authorinfo and carefully read the information on author's rights, guidelines, and policies regarding article submission. You will also find information on what to do after your article is accepted.

SUBMIT A MANUSCRIPT

To submit a manuscript, visit www.ijwdonline.org and click the "For Authors" tab. They should be submitted under one of the following sections:

1. Diseases as they apply to female patients
2. Female anatomical and physiological issues relevant to skin
3. Pediatric dermatology
4. Cosmetic Dermatology
5. Procedural Dermatology
6. Therapeutics relevant to women
7. Workforce issues relevant to women in dermatology
8. Ethics
9. Medical-Legal
10. Literary Piece: What's on my mind!

Award Programs Accepting Applications

MENTORSHIP AWARD PROGRAM

The WDS Mentorship Award Program was created to help promote the concept of Mentorship within the WDS by establishing long-term relationships between Mentors and Mentees.

PURPOSE OF AWARD

The Purpose of the award is to develop mentoring relationships that might not otherwise be possible due to distance or funding availability. The program helps develop leadership potential in candidates who have shown early promise through exceptional activities, which will enhance their contributions to dermatology and medicine.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

- All applicants must be dermatology residents in training or junior faculty out of training five years or less at North American institutions.
- All applicants must be current or pending members of WDS.
- Either the Mentor or Mentee must be a woman.
- Each Mentor may support a maximum of two Mentee applicants per year.
- If an applicant accepts funding from another organization for the same proposal or is unable to complete his/her mentorship, the awarded funds will be returned to WDS.
- The Mentorship Award is not intended to cover indirect or overhead costs.
- Upon completion of mentorship, the mentee is required to submit a final summary report and headshot that will be published in the annual report.

Application Timeline

Application Deadline: Friday, April 27, 2018

Recipients selected and notified: June, 2018*

Rotation time frame: All funds must be used within 18 months of notification (June 2018 - December 2019)

Awardees will be recognized at the 2019 Annual Meeting.

*Notification date is subject to change based on committee review process.

This program is supported by Ortho-Dermatologics

WDS PROCTER & GAMBLE SCIENCE BEHIND SYMPOSIUM PROGRAM!

The Women's Dermatologic Society is excited to partner with P&G again to provide award recipients with the opportunity to attend the P&G Science Behind Symposium, May 4th - 5th, 2018.

Over the past 14 years, Procter & Gamble has hosted more than 200 prominent dermatologists in Cincinnati, OH for a two-day summit called The P&G Science Behind Symposium (a.k.a. Dermatology Technology Symposium). This gathering of top health professionals with leading industry scientists, researchers and marketers serves to inspire collaboration, innovation, and scientific exchange. The meeting's ultimate goal is to spur discussion about products with meaningful, measurable and noticeable benefits to consumers and patients. The primary objectives of this program are to:

- Learn more about cutting edge techniques and technologies being used industry-wide to advance skincare products and research
- Foster collaboration and learning with leaders in the dermatology community
- Gain insights into the science behind top skincare products to help guide patient recommendations
- Network with colleagues and renowned scientists and discuss how new skincare technologies can better serve their patients

Physicians in attendance are guided through the science behind P&G products as well as the latest in skin research coming out of state of the art labs— from antiaging to sensitivity and everything in between.

APPLICATION DETAILS

Applicant Criteria:

- 'Mentor' applicants must be experienced dermatologists
- 'Mentee' applicants must be a resident or young physician (5 years or less out of residency)
- Applicants must be a member of the Women's Dermatologic Society
- Award recipients must be able to travel for 3 days during the selected time frame
- Award recipients must be willing to sign a legal confidentiality contract and photo consent form prepared and executed by Procter & Gamble

Application Timeline:

- Application deadline: Friday, March 2, 2018
- Award recipients announced: Early April
- P&G Science Behind Symposium Program: Arrive May 3rd and depart mid-afternoon May 5th, 2018.

This program is supported by Procter & Gamble

TESTIMONIALS

"WDS has been an outstanding way to meet fellow dermatologists, both women and men, from around the country. Through WDS committee work and community service, I have developed lifelong friendships and leadership skills in a supportive environment."

~ Kathleen J. Hectorne, MD, FAAD

"The WDS has been truly instrumental in my career development and training as a resident. From networking events and involvement with the Play Safe in the Sun and TOPS Programs to a life-altering mentorship experience, I am amazed by all that the WDS has to offer! The friendships and mentoring relationships will be invaluable for many years to come."

~ Ashley Wysong, MD, MS
